

A. Choose the correct answer.

The holiday was a disaster. It (meant / was supposed) to be a second honeymoon but it all went so badly wrong. We (should / must) have gone by plane but my wife is scared of flying and I decided we (had better / need) go by coach. It was a long and uncomfortable journey; we (should have stopped / needed to stop) twice because of some problem with the coach. When we arrived, the hotel was full up. When I'd phoned the hotel from home, they had told me we (didn't need to book / neednt have booked) because it was out of season. They were wrong. We (couldn't / mustnt) get in that hotel so we tried another one. This wasn't full, in fact it was almost empty and we soon learnt why. There were lots of strange rules, like we weren't (meant / allowed) to come back after 8 p.m., the front door was always locked, and a big notice outside the swimming pool said 'It is not (permitted / supposed) to swim in the pool'! I spoke to the manager about this and do you know what she said? "You (don't have to / mustnt) stay here if you don't like it." We (shouldn't / couldn't) change our coach tickets so we had to stay there for a whole miserable week.

B. Fill in each gap with one suitable word or two contracted words (e.g. shouldn't, mustn't, needn't or similar).

TEACHER: What are you doing here? You are not (1) to be here.

STUDENT: Sorry, I know students (2) not go into the staffroom, but I really need to speak with Mr. Donovan.

TEACHER: Well, you (3) have come in here to talk to him. It wasn't really necessary. You could have gone to the principal's office and ask him to call Mr. Donovan. Actually, that's what you (4) have done.

STUDENT: I'm sorry, I wasn't thinking straight. I really (5) to talk to him urgently.

TEACHER: Well, you'd (6) think straight the next time, OK? Now, if you want to talk to Mr. Donovan, you don't (7) to go to the principal's. I'll call him myself. And, please, you (8) to take that chewing gum out of your mouth. You know that chewing gum is not (9) on school premises. You (10) better not do it again, or I'll have to send you to detention.

STUDENT: OK, Mr. Harris. Thanks.

A. Choose the correct answer.

Janice: What do you think of this portrait of the old Duke?

Lilly: He looks a bit (strange / strangely) in that hat. It is very realistic though and a bit frightening, I mean those eyes look out at you so (strange / strangely).

Janice: Yeah, it seems (as if / like) he wants to jump out of the picture and get you. Maybe he is the one watching us (standing / stand) here in front of his portrait...

Lilly: Let's move on! (are you seeing / can you see) that one over there? It looks (as if / like) a watercolour.

Janice: Yes, wow, it must be a new one. It smells (of / as) fresh paint! Oh, it's by this artist Joe Cartwright. I'm sure we (can hear / will be hearing) a lot about him in the future. Look, it's getting late, we better go.

Lilly: Shame, we seem (to run / to have run) out of time. We'll have to come back before the exhibition closes down. What about next week?

Janice. Sorry, but I (am seeing / see) another friend then. Maybe the Saturday after?

Lilly: Great, sounds good.
